Animal Health Law evaluation: Call for evidence

Animal Health Law (evaluation) – Call for evidence

What is changing and why?

The European Commission has launched a call for evidence to support its evaluation of the Animal Health Law and related rules, including those laying down specific requirements for non-EU countries exporting to the EU. The evaluation will focus on the relevance, adequacy, and sustainability of the Animal Health Law, and its impact on trade with countries outside the EU. The evaluation will also take into consideration the Law's coherence, both internally and with other EU policies and programmes.

This call for evidence provides a timely opportunity for non-EU countries to give feedback on the EU animal health legislation.

Actions

This call for evidence via the EU's Have your say webpage closed on 3 April 2024. It is the start of a wider consultation among EU stakeholders, and your input can still be relevant after that date – please email agrinfo@colead.link if you wish to contribute after 3 April.

Timeline

The call for evidence closed on 3 April 2024.
