Authorisation of genetically modified maize DP51291

Published by AGRINFO on 07 Oct 2025

Commission Implementing Decision (EU) 2025/1898 authorising the placing on the market of products containing, consisting of or produced from genetically modified maize DP51291

What is changing and why?

The European Union (EU) has authorised the sale of the genetically modified maize DP51291 to be used in food, food ingredients, feed, and products for any other uses except for cultivation. Within the EU, this maize can only be sold (it may not be grown).

Timeline

This authorisation is valid for a period of 10 years (until 22 September 2035).
