Reauthorisation of genetically modified maize NK603

Published by AGRINFO on 04 Mar 2026

Commission Implementing Decision (EU) 2026/485 renewing the authorisation for the placing on the market of products containing, consisting of or produced from genetically modified maize NK603

What is changing and why?

The European Union (EU) has reauthorised the sale of the genetically modified maize NK603 to be used in food, food ingredients, feed, and products for any other uses except for cultivation. Within the EU, this maize can only be sold (it may not be grown).

Timeline

This authorisation is valid for a period of 10 years (until March 2036).
